Dr. Vijay Prashad is Professor of International Studies and South Asian History at Trinity College, Connecticut and a renowned journalist. His work addresses issues like race and imperialism, race and immigrant communities in the US, geopolitical changes in the global South after 9/11, the propagation of policies that produce and exacerbate income inequalities, the possibilities of political solidarities among social movements committed to progressive change in the world, and the role of national governments and regional alliances in the context of economic and political changes in the world. He is the author of numerous books including The Death of the Nation and the Future of the Arab Revolution, No Free Left: The Futures of Indian Communism, and The Poorer Nations: A Possible History of the Global South.

CO-SPONSORED by THE INSTITUTE for HUMANITIES RESEARCH; THE DEPARTMENTS OF FEMINIST STUDIES, HISTORY, and POLITICS; the CRITICAL RACE and ETHNIC STUDIES PROGRAM; the COMMUNITY STUDIES PROGRAM; the OFFICE for DIVERSITY.
