Monica Sharma draws on more than twenty years of working for the United Nations and beyond to present a radical new approach to transformational leadership, one that creates systems of change where everyone can engage - not just analysts and policymakers. We can all be architects of a new humanity! Come learn about a framework that:

- Applies cutting-edge leadership principles tested globally to local efforts in order to create positive systemic and equitable change
- Activates and connects initiatives across the nation to create exponential change
- Designs projects and transforms everyday activities to simultaneously solve problems, shift systems & norms and activate shared values
- Develops leaders, tapping into and unleashing the greatest potential in all of us and supporting others to do the same

Radical Transformational Leadership, Monica Sharma's new book, describes how we can source our inner capacities and wisdom to manifest change that embodies universal values such as dignity, compassion, fairness and courage. Through these tools, we can create new patterns that effectively address major challenges, such as gross inequality, unbridled hate, conflicts based on social identity and the never-enough mindset of greed. Everyone has the potential to be a leader - a person who creates a new future - through actions in society, at home and at work.
